the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has grown from 10% of the economy to 15% of the economy.

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for public services, particularly in the areas of health and social care. Another reason is the increasing need for public services to be funded, particularly in the areas of health and social care.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be funded. One way is through taxation. Another way is through borrowing. A third way is through the sale of public assets.

There are a number of advantages and disadvantages to each of these ways of funding the public sector. Taxation is the most common way of funding the public sector, but it can be unpopular. Borrowing can be a quick way to raise money, but it can also be expensive. The sale of public assets can be a way to raise money, but it can also be controversial.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be managed. One way is through a central government department. Another way is through a number of different departments. A third way is through a number of different agencies.

Highlighting the 1976 Homecoming activities was the crowning of Queen Denise Mishler. The Student Council selected a theme from the wild west, "Panthers Trail Along for a Victory!" The trophy for the float which best carried out the Homecoming Theme was awarded to the Freshmen class. The Sophomores received the award for the most original entry.

The Panthers lost to Concord 17 to 14. In spite of the loss, the Homecoming Dance was enjoyed by many students and alumni.

Panther Fans Express Spirit

Spirit days, decorated halls, pep rallies, and red Panther jackets were all expressions of "Panther Pride" during the 1976-77 school year. Students as well as adults offered strong support to athletic teams throughout the year. Large turn outs for wrestling meets and girls' athletic events reflected the growing interest in what used to be termed "minor sports."

The Senior Class aroused Panther spirit during sectional week and won the hall decoration contest by trimming the south surge in red and black. Spirit was also displayed in the hats, ties, jerseys, and overalls which were worn by students and faculty members on designated spirit days preceding the football homecoming and sectional basketball game.

Winter Brings Snow And More Snow

The Winter of 1977 will not soon be forgotten. Several heavy snow storms struck the NorthWood area as well as the entire state of Indiana.

A natural gas shortage, caused by a Midwest blizzard in January, forced both schools and factories to shut down for several days. Wa-Nee students missed a total of 12 school days due to impassable drifted roads and the fuel shortage.

The cold winter weather was not all for the worst. Many students enjoyed the excellent snow conditions for skiing, sledding, snowmobiling, and just having fun.

Rick Arnott Stars As Scapino

Friday and Saturday night audiences were entertained in a relaxed atmosphere by the Drama Club's fall production, SCAPINO. Rick Arnott played the lead part of Scapino, an easy-going, wise guy conman, as the auditorium stage took on the appearance of a cluttered cafe bar by a dock in the seaport of Naples.

The actual performances required numerous hours of rehearsing and work by many Drama Club members. The play was presented by the cast in a manner which included action, fast timing, slapstick farce, and of course a happy ending.

Drama Club Presents Hello Dolly

The NorthWood Auditorium curtain opened on March 24, 25, and 26 for the Drama Club's spring musical HELLO DOLLY. Drama Club members contributed to the production by serving on committees and acting as cast and chorus members.

Kendra Ummel starred as Dolly, a fast-talking lady who arranged things: flowers, furniture, love, and even lives. She also arranged a marriage, her own, to the wealthy Horace Vandergelder, portrayed by Chuck Zercher. Dolly's ingenuity combined with music and choreography to make this musical a high-spirited comedy.

BELOW. Prior to the dinner Andy Anglemeyer, Junior Class President, delivers the welcome address.

Couples Enjoy "Summer Breeze"

The Juniors chose the theme "Summer Breeze" for the 1977 Junior-Senior Prom. Much work went into decorations which transformed the school into an outdoor patio and created a romantic summer evening atmosphere.

Following the meal and the crowning of King and Queen Brad Yoder and Cheryl Wagner, couples danced to "Sarsparilla" and viewed the movie "Beach Blanket Bingo." The prom ended at midnight, and couples returned at 1:00 a.m. for after-prom activities. After a few hours of sleep couples headed for the sun at Michigan's Warren Dunes to complete their April 30th weekend.

For the first time in the history of NorthWood, two students from the graduating class gave the Baccalaureate-Commencement addresses. Dave Charles and Deanna Smeltzer delivered speeches to 183 classmates during the 2:00 p.m. ceremony in the high school gymnasium on Sunday, May 22, 1977.

Their dedication to cross country permitted them to finish 11th in the state meet at Indianapolis."

The Harriers traveled to Kentucky to compete in the Covington Catholic Invitational, where they placed first. In the Northern Lakes Conference the "Black Pack" placed second to Goshen.

Award winners were Dave Neff as most valuable runner, Dave Charles as team captain, and Brad Yoder as most improved runner. The team ended with a 14-4 record. This was the first team in Panther history to compete in a State event.

The girls, coached by Marsha Price and Jan Schrock, placed 3rd in N.L.C. competition and 6th at sectional. Regional qualifiers were Chris Ressler in the mile, Jan Grimm in the 440 yd. dash, and Kim Bussard in the high jump. Bussard advanced to the state meet, and Grimm was named "Most Valuable Trackster" earning 107 team points.

The girls' tennis team finished the season with a 5-6 record. Senior Elaine Bigler ended her 4th year as Northwood's number one singles player with an 11-6 slate. The number one doubles team of Ann Garl and Annette Whitmer won the "Best Record" award with an 11-3 mark. Tennis coach Bernice Kauffman also worked with the B-team which netted a 9-2 grid.

RIGHT. Mr. Weaver explains General Math problems.

Students Study And Solve Problems

Do you ever wonder how the human body functions or how the earth is formed? What is the speed of light? What is a mud puppy? Students worked in the lab to answer these and other science questions. Biology II students conducted experiments with fruit flies to determine the passing of genes from one generation to another.

NorthWood's math program proved to be challenging and interesting to all students from beginning Algebra I to Computer Math and Analytical Geometry.

CENTER. Tonya Miller is overjoyed with the completion of her Algebra problem.

The Social Studies Department made use of the presidential election by spending several weeks campaigning, debating and making up announcements for the candidates they supported.

In the beginning level of Spanish and German students studied the basic words of the language as a class, using dialogues from textbooks and corresponding tapes.

The class of '77 was the first graduating class to participate four years in the Phase Elective program in the Language Arts Department.

BELOW. "George" comes in handy when it comes to teaching health students about bone structures.

NorthWood students had a variety of physical education activities to keep them physically fit. Classes ranged from camping and bowling to required Freshmen P.E. Freshmen also learned about personal care, medicine, drugs, and alcohol by studying health.

Improving artistic talents and putting them to work became a major goal of students studying in the Art Department. Students also achieved an understanding of art in everyday life through studies in design and crafts.

BELOW. Nanette Biever experiences working with young students in exploratory teaching.

NorthWood offered courses which were designed to prepare students for future careers. The home economics department prepared girls for future homemaking, while the exploratory teaching class experimented the joy of working with younger children.

Many different farming methods were introduced and studied by agriculture students. The tools and equipment used in the various shops of the industrial arts department were similar to those found on-the-job in industry.

Students Get Down To Business

The business department gave students practical experience for future employment in the field of business. Typing students worked for speed and accuracy, while bookkeeping students learned the fundamentals of accounting. Beginning shorthand students learned the basic skills, and business law students learned laws that applied to the business world.

The Career Center offered many vocational areas in which to learn basic skills needed to help students in their areas of interests.

We Believe In Music.

This year choir students gained performing experience while displaying their talents to others as they presented a musical play "Once Upon a Christmas." The Freshman Girls' Choir, Boys' Choir, Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Choir, and Dawning Generation also combined for a spring concert which entertained members of the community.

NorthWood's swing choir, the Dawning Generation, met on alternate days during seventh hour for rehearsal. Dressed in yellow and blue jumpsuits, they performed a number of songs for churches, clubs, nursing homes, and other schools.

The Jazz Band consisted of 22 hard-working, talented students who spent seventh hours rehearsing for their performances. They presented student body convocations at NorthWood and Wawasee.

A foldout is much like a person in the process of growing up. There are many sides to such a person: color, laughter, quiet moments alone, and memories of the past. A new part unfolds every day, giving fresh insight into the person, showing his real self.

Seniors are especially growing. That is the purpose of this foldout--to capture the real person, to show his love for life, and to relate to everything else in the constant process of growing up.

Exchange Student from Greece

George Filon

George Filon, a senior exchange student from Greece, became a very Americanized teen-ager during his year of study at NorthWood. Hot dogs, hamburgers, french fries, cokes, pies, bowling, gymnastics, and cruising Goshen became favorite United States memories for George.

George was amazed with the quality of the school systems in America and was also extremely surprised with the athletic facilities available to high school students. He especially liked to go to the football and basketball games.

Although George enjoyed his stay in America, he admitted that, except for the girls, he was anxious to return to Greece, with its beautiful history, mountains, seas, and friendly, hospitable people.

IN MEMORIAM

A Quiet Place

There is A Quiet Place, far from the rapid pace, where God can soothe my troubled mind.

Sheltered by tree and flow'r there in my quiet hour with Him, my cares are left behind.

Whether a garden small or on a mountain tall new strength and courage there I find;

Then from this quiet place I go prepared to face a new day with love for all mankind.

Organizations

Notre Dame Coach Talks To Lettermen

All female athletes at NorthWood belonged to the Girls' Athletic Association which met on Monday evenings for fun, socializing, and exercise. One of the highlights of the year was an ice skating party at Ann Garl's house.

A G.A.A. spring sports banquet was held in May to honor all athletes and coaches. Senior Elaine Bigler was named "Athlete of the Year."

Male athletes who won sport letters in high school competition belonged to the NorthWood Lettermen's Club. Members were responsible for collecting money and ushering fans at Panther sports contests. The Lettermen were honored at a chicken barbecue banquet at which an assistant basketball coach from Notre Dame was the guest speaker.

Two Productions Keep Drama Club Busy

Drama Club required weeks of work and preparation for its two productions. In order to finance their productions, Drama Club members were busy selling concessions at basketball games.

Several members tried out for parts in SCAPINO, the fall production in which Rick Arnott played the lead. Numerous chorus parts and walk-on roles allowed more members to appear on stage in the club's spring musical HELLO DOLLY.

Club members earning ten or more drama points were initiated into the International Thespian Society. North-Wood's Thespian troupe #979 presented YOU'RE A GOOD MAN, CHARLIE BROWN in June to raise money for a theater study trip to New York City.

Cheerleaders Fire-Up Both Players And Fans

The varsity and junior varsity cheerleading squads attended camp at Ball State where they learned new chants and cheers. They were chosen as one of the five best squads at the camp and were awarded a spirit stick to bring home.

Besides supporting Panther teams, they sponsored a cheerleading clinic for grade school children. The cheerleaders were also responsible for decorated halls and lockers which fired-up both players and fans.

Pep Clubs Prove "Panther Spirit Never Dies"

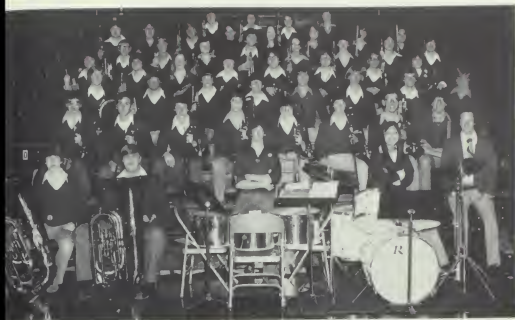

Guys and Girls pep clubs proved that "Panther Spirit Never Dies." Both clubs supported the Panther players during football and basketball seasons with much enthusiasm. A dance featuring "Magi" was sponsored by the girls pep club after the Panthers defeated Penn in basketball.

Playing the school song at pep rallies and home games was the job of the pep band. Members assisted the cheerleaders with songs and chants. They also played at the "Maple Syrup Festival."

Participation and enthusiasm from both the pep band and the pep clubs boosted the Panthers during the ups and downs of basketball.

Spanish Club Sponsors Disco Dance

Learning new strategies and moves was part of being a Chess Club member. Members met Tuesday nights after school to practice and compete. This year their only challenge was with Goshen.

Spanish Club members planned a summer trip to Spain to observe the Spanish customs and different ways of living. They were in charge of the coat check at home basketball games and sponsored a cheese and sausage sale to raise money. One of their big events was a "Disco" dance which was attended by many students.

Attending the varsity and B-team wrestling meets was an important duty of the Mat Maids. They also sponsored a chicken barbecue, sold season wrestling tickets to fans, and fired-up members of the wrestling team by decorating the halls for sectional.

Campus Life Involved In Many Activities

NorthWood Campus Life members held weekly meetings in their homes throughout the year. The Monday night meetings were both fun and serious with some meetings centering around group discussions concerning morals and principles. This year's group, the biggest ever, also enjoyed socializing and refreshments after each meeting.

Special Campus Life activities included a Fat Albert sundae, a King Kong hunt, and a haunted house tour. The most exciting event for many members was a trip to Florida during spring break which included Disney World, sunny beaches, fellowship and fun.

Office, library, and guidance assistants were busy all year long helping faculty members. Seven senior girls devoted an hour a day to work in the office answering phones and student's questions. Guidance office assistants were responsible for recording attendance, and library assistants kept busy helping students find and check out library materials.

Visiting tourist attractions in New York City were 38 seniors on the Travel Club trip. The four days were spent at places such as Radio City Music Hall, the Statue of Liberty, the Broadway play SHENADOAH, and the taping of "The $25,000 Pyramid." The airplane trip and subway rides proved to be memorable experiences for the senior travelers.

Fellowship of Christian Athlete members had both inspiring and perspiring activities on their schedules this year. Activities included caroling at Christmas, a weekend retreat, and sponsoring speaker Grady Nutt. The Grady Nutt program, which included humor, music, and ministering, was enjoyed by all who attended.

This year's active Student Council sponsored many convocations for the student body. Council members were also busy working on committees for homecoming and sweetheart festivities, school elections, school calendars, and posting free expressions.

Service Clubs Involved in Numerous Projects

Scholarship, character, leadership and service were the areas in which the faculty selected new National Honor Society members. Ten juniors and five seniors were added to the 13 members who were inducted into the N.H.S. last year.

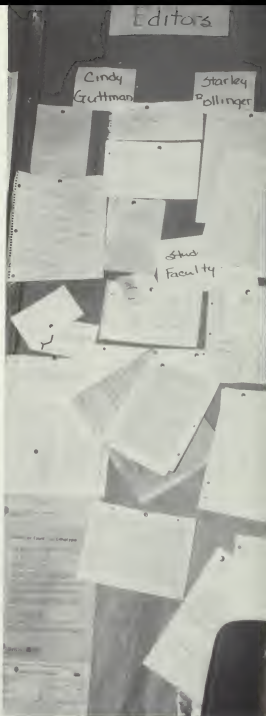

NorthWood Future Farmers of America spent a lot of time farming 40 acres of land; they also participated in dairy and livestock judging teams. The FFA sponsored a slave auction in which the members were auctioned off to work for their highest bidder.

NorthWood's Future Homemakers of America maintained a busy schedule throughout the year. Hay rides, bowling, nursing home visits, and state and district meeting were among the activities which kept members active and involved.

The year was also busy and exciting for Y-Teen members. The girls adopted grandparents and paid them weekly visits. A Christmas party, fashion show, child care program, and a late, late slumber party kept the girls on the go.

Logue Staff Works Diligently On Yearbook

Plans for the 1977 LOGUE began in July of 1976 as editor Cindy Guttman and assistant editor Starley Bollinger attended a yearbook seminar in San Angelo, Texas. They brought back with them new ideas and hopes of making this year's LOGUE the finest in NorthWood's history. NorthWood staff members worked diligently selling ads, writing copy, drawing layouts, and cropping pictures as they met daily during 7th hour.

Kim Middaugh and Kim Rensberger were busy with advertising appointments while Cheryl Wagner and Cathy Moser arranged the album section. Nanette Bieber and Tammy Adams spent many hours on sports as did Pat Wyant and Sue Mattern on academics. Nancy Slagle and Jo McElheny had a big job in organizing the extra-curricular activities. Photographers Julie Herrli, Cal Good, and Sandy Miner proved vital to the staff, and advisor Roger Troyer contributed the most important quality necessary for producing a good book--patience.

The entire staff gained experience not only in making a yearbook, but in coping with pressure and responsibility. Along with this, 7th hour became a time for friendship and fun among LOGUE staff members.

OPPOSITE PAGE TOP RIGHT: There seems to be no end to the work that piles up for Cindy Guttman and Starley Bollinger.

Memories may be beautiful, and yet, what's too painful to remember we simply choose to forget. ©

*So it's the laughter we will remember, whenever we remember the way we were;
The way we were. ©*

There are no words to describe my feelings at this time. It is such a relief to know that this book is finally finished, and yet, it seems unreal that my days at NorthWood are over.

I feel there are many things we should try to remember about our four years at NorthWood. We should remember the people we have met--the people that have touched our lives. Every experience, although not always good, has allowed us to grow in some small way. Hopefully, we have grown enough to discover who we are and where we are going.

In the years ahead I hope we all find ourselves where we want to be, always giving our best, and enjoying everything around us.

Our past can never be relived--only remembered. May this yearbook provide you with a lifetime of memories.

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The United Kingdom has a number of government departments and agencies that are responsible for the care of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health is responsible for the overall policy and strategy for the mental health services. The Department of Social Security is responsible for the provision of social security benefits to people with mental health problems. The Department of the Environment is responsible for the provision of housing and other services to people with mental health problems.

The National Health Service (NHS) is responsible for the provision of mental health services. The NHS is a public body that is funded by the government. The NHS is responsible for the provision of a wide range of mental health services, including community mental health teams, inpatient services, and out-patient services. The NHS is also responsible for the provision of mental health services to people with learning disabilities.

The Mental Health Act 1983 is the primary legislation governing the provision of mental health services in the United Kingdom. The Act sets out the powers of the courts and the powers of the Secretary of State. The Act also sets out the powers of the Mental Health Review Board. The Mental Health Act 1983 is a complex piece of legislation that has been amended a number of times since it was first enacted.
